"Protecting and Supporting Law Enforcement"

MEDIA IN EXCELLENCE AWARD

The Blue Magazine Moment of Silence

The Blue Magazine is the unfiltered and independent voice of American law enforcement officers. It is owned and operated by active and retired law enforcement professionals who recognize the inherent dangers and challenges in all aspects of law enforcement. The Blue Magazine aims to strengthen the ties that bring law enforcement together as brothers and sisters in blue. There are relevant, helpful, and interesting articles in the magazine and on the website. These articles are uncensored and written by men and women in law enforcement, as well as those who support them. We shine a light on anyone who attacks our profession for self-serving interests.

Blue Suicide raises awareness about the epidemic of suicides among law enforcement, military personnel, and first responders. Youth Community outreach is an integrated approach to mentoring youth, providing guidance, developing work employment opportunities, and education assistance. They strongly believe that impacting youth and developing the relationship between youth and law enforcement is a priceless and worthy endeavor.

The Blue Magazine honors the service and sacrifices of our brothers and sisters in blue who have lost their lives defending and protecting their communities. We honor the men and women of the military who protect our freedom, both at home and abroad. There is a price paid, by our military and police officers, in blood or anguish.

We Are Blue.
